

END HUNGER WITH THE FORCE OF LAW

"(The International Food Security Treaty points toward a world where human rights can be truly universal."

*John Shattuck
Former U.S. Assistant
Secretary of State for Democracy, Human Rights and Labor*

The International Food Security Treaty aims to place the human right of FREEDOM FROM HUNGER
under the protection of enforceable international law.

"(The IFST) makes the utmost sense... (It) must have teeth - another pious platitude in favor of eating will not accomplish the task."

*Abner J. Mikva
Former Chief Judge,
U.S. Court of Appeals,
District of Columbia Circuit*

"I am very encouraged to hear about the work (the IFST Campaign is) doing for food security... I hope your work will progress powerfully"

*Amartya Sen
Nobel Laureate in Economics
Adjunct Professor of Population and International Health,
Harvard University*

"The International Food Security (Treaty) Campaign is on the vanguard of the effort to end world hunger through rule of law."

"(The IFST is potentially) the centerpiece of a whole system by which the capacity of the Earth to feed its people is translated into a real commitment to do something because there's no fundamental need for hunger now, and certainly none for starvation."

*Maurice Strong
Special Advisor to the Secretary-General of the United Nations Former Director of the World Economic Forum Foundation Board*

"(The IFST) is a new idea whose time has come."

*Dr. Robert Muller
Former Chancellor, United Nations University for Peace
Former UN Assistant Secretary-General*

"(L)egal instruments are urgently needed to give legal teeth to the human right to food. (The IFST) is therefore highly welcome."

*R. Kautzman
Secretary-General, FoodFirst
Information and Action Network
(Germany)*

"(The IFST) is a necessary tool in eradicating the ongoing problem of world hunger... the legal realization of the will to address these needs."
